JUNE 3, 2008

BY: MIKE SINGER

PALM DESERT, Calif. A reception to honor a group of Registered Nurses receiving their Bachelor of Science degree from the Palm Desert Campus of California State University, San Bernardino will take place on Sunday, June 8, at 3:00 p.m. in the Indian Wells Theater on the campus, located at 37-500 Cook Street.

This is the second group from the Palm Desert Campus to ever graduate with this honor.

The afternoon will begin with a welcome from Dr. Fred Jandt, Dean of the Palm Desert Campus. Keynote speaker will be Dr. J.M. Evosevich, Chair, Board of Directors of Regional Access Program (RAP), a major supporter of the campus' nursing program along with Desert Regional Medical Center, Eisenhower Medical Center and John F. Kennedy Memorial Hospital.

The nurses being honored are already working out in the field at many desert medical facilities. They have chosen to go back to Cal State's Palm Desert Campus to receive their Bachelor of Science degree in Nursing. It is possible to complete the program in two years, however, most prefer the three year plan which provides ample time to complete all requirements for the degree.
